Swanson and Montague Contesting for County Delegation to Convention-General News.

A hot campaign is in progress in Alexandria county between the supporters of Attorney General A. J. Montague and Representative Claude A. Swanson to secure the four delegates from that county to the gust 14. After losing the city delegation by such a small majority the Montague supporters in this section have redoubled their efforts to carry the county. There they have had sufficient time to organize and it is said that they have made a thorough canvass of every district. It is said that in the county, as in this city, a majority of the regular democratic party managers are in favor of Swanson, while the attorney general derives his support from the masses of the people. The election of delegates will take place Tuesday, the 14th instant. In Jefferson district the voting will take place at Hume's school house; in Arlington district, at the county court house, on Fort Meyer Heights, and in Washington district at Carne's school house. Each district will have one delegate, except Washington, to which two are apportioned.

General Matters. The following officers have been elected by the Alexandria Free Kindergarten Assoclation for the ensuing year: Mrs. M. W. O'Brien, president; K. Kemper, vice president; R. S. Jones, treasurer; Miss E. C.

McKnight, secretary, and John Herndon,

Funeral services over the remains of William Andrew Violett, who died Tuesday morning, were held this afternoon at the late residence of the deceased on South Lee street. Rev. E. V. Register of the M. E. Church South conducted the services, and the interment was made in the Presbyterian cemetery.

A decree has been entered in the corporation court in the case of Gertie Entwisle against F. L. Entwisle declaring the mar-

"You have at this date completed forty years of faithful and intelligent service in

MEET AND CONFER.

Railway Officials and Coal Operators

Discuss Rates and Adjourn.

the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company and the coal operators in the New River region, which was held at the Raleigh Hotel, adjourned late yesterday afternoon. Both sides claim to be satisfied with the results, but there is a difference of opinion on some points. The western traffic was discussed at considerable length. At the conclusion of the meeting the railroad officials claimed that an agreement had been reached under which the ruinous competition that has existed between various operators, involving cut prices and other means of obtaining business, will be dis-continued, and a uniform price on each of the various grades of the output maintained. The operators, however, claim that no definite agreement was reached, and that each operator is left free to act as he deems best. It was pointed out that the anti-trust law prevented any agreement on prices between the operators.

An agreement was reached to continue the coal-selling agencies throughout the west and northwest, and the present method of selling the product there, but there will be no unification of interests in the agencies. Main agencies of each opera-tor will remain in Chicago and Cincinnati.

Subagencies will be increased throughout the west, but each agent will represent in-dividual interests. The need, however, of maintaining such a price as would best meet outside competition was agreed upon, and some assurance given that this would be done in the interest of pushing the out-put into more extended markets in the west. With the possible exception of one operator, it was decided that the entire output of the New River region going eastward, both for inland and tidewater points.

will be handled through one company.

CALVERT WILL DISCOVERED.

Instrument Believed to Have Been Lost Bequeaths Large Estate. Special Correspondence of The Evening Star.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., May 8, 1901. After diligent search for several weeks the will of the late Cecilus B. Calvert of Mount Airy, this county, was found and has been filed with the orphans' court of Prince George's county by his nephew, Geo. Calvert of Washington. The will was discovered in a small box, with a gold watch and a large abount of money, in the library. According to its terms, everything he owned was left to his sister, Miss Eleanor Calvert, who resides at Mount Calvert. She is also appointed sole executrix. The will bequeaths a large amount of real, personal and mixed property. It was written by Judge John Brooke in 1864, and was witnessed by Mrs. Helen Brooke and Dr. John Mendell of Washington. The latter died shortly afterward at his home in Washbut Judge Brooke and Mrs. Brooke appeared and made affidavits as to the genuineness of their signatures.

Miss Calvert, who is over eighty years renounced the appointment as executrix and requested that George Calvert, her nephew, be appointed in her place, and that Messrs. Benjamin F. and George T. Duval be named as appraisers. One of the upper rooms of the old mansion is filled with valuable portraits of the colonial Calverts and early settlers of Maryland. It is understood that the United States government has been endeavoring for some time to purchase some of these valuable paintings, but has never been suc-

A special meeting of the town council was held last evening by Mayor Tierney for the purpose of qualifying the newly elected officers of the town. Dr. James P. Owens called the council to order. The report of the election judges of the several wards of the town was then read and ac cepted. According to the town charter it became necessary to swear in each officia the new as well as the old. This was done by Justice Arthur Carr. It is also required by the charter that the council shall meet Monday next to select a president of the council. No business was transacted, the meeting being simply called to qualify the own officers.

Mrs. Ira G. Phillips of this place died this morning after a lingering illness. The deceased leaves her husband and five small children. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Mosquitoes and Disease. To the Editor of The Evening Star:

I write on an unesthetic subject, yet of such importance that I trust I will be pardoned for calling public attention to it. I am a poor man and for many years have paid low rentals. For twelve years I lived in the northeast part of the city and on premises not connected with the sewer. The box for containing foecal matter, when not in use, was kept carefully covered so that little or no bad odor came from it. and I do not remember having observed mosquitoes about it, although there were many of them in that locality. Since then I have been living in another part of the city, where are fewer mos-quitoes, and the water closet, outside the ouse, is connected with the sewer. There has been little odor from it, and the re-ceptacle has been left uncovered. Last summer I noticed, repeatedly, on going to it, that a number of mosquitoes flew up from it, and I presume that, at night, these, together with others from adjoining

I propose during the coming summer to keep the receptacle tightly covered and to plant a castor bean nearby, and would advise every householder to do the same, and to also save himself by getting his neigh-bors to do likewise. My objection to put-ting screens in windows is that, aside from during the heated term, we cannot get enough for health and comfort. K.

The eastern conference of the Maryland synod, which comprises, in addition to the Lutheran churches in Maryland, those also of that denomination in the District of Columbia, will be held in the Lutheran Church, Lutherville, Md., Rev. John F. Crigler, pastor, Monday next. The exercises will begin at 9:45 a.m., and after devotional services, conducted by Rev. I. C. Burke, president of the conference, matters of business will be transacted. At the conclusion of the latter addresses will be made on the topics which follow and by the speakers named:

Refrigerators. When the weather gets hot your appetite becomes unusually particular, and food that contracts a stale taste from a poor refrigerator is positively nauseating.

The Leonard Cleanable

Refrigerator is practically the only one that is absolutely reliable in this respect. It is designed so that there is not a nook or corner that cannot be easily reached and kept clean. It is a wonderful ice saver, too, being built with no less than eight walls.

The prices are extremely moderate.
